Found these great people at Rosie On the House. Rod came out to the house, took the measurements and steered me from choosing the faux wood color blind that I thought would look good to the faux wood blind that he thought would be better and yes, it looks fabulous! He definitely has the eye for this and I'm so thankful that he just didn't go along with me (like others have done in the past) just to make a sale. I really appreciated it.

Also, he and his wife removed the present window treatments so he could install the blinds and put them back up perfectly. The product was delivered as promised - no delays - and the quality is excellent.

Definitely recommend Rod and Katy.
